Kubiak, Denton Rap 'Pork Barrel' Bill

Texas taxpayers will be shelling out taxes for some "pork barrel" items following addition of some $24 million to the original appropriations bill, according to two Central Texas representatives' news letters this week.

Both Rep. Dan Kubiak of the 27th District and Rep. Lane Denton of McLennan County itemized additions to the bill which were included by the ten-member Conference Committee.

Kubiak said the new appropriations bill calling for $695 in new spending was "railroaded through the House during the closing hours of the regular session."

"The ten-member Conference Committee added $22,132,549 to their individual districts which was not debated by either house," Rep. Kubiak said.

Rep. Denton said the final appropriations bill was written by 10 members in secret meetings, "a clear violation of the rules which Speaker Gus Mutscher chose to ignore."

"Two thirds of the House members felt the appropriations bill and the increased expenditures were not even important enough to question," Denton continued. "They voted to end debate on the measure after only 30 minutes."

Denton listed these additions to the bill:

1. Governor's salary will increase from $55,000 per year to $63,000 by 1973.

2. $150,000 will go for a state park in Rep. Healy's district. Healy is chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

3. The LBJ Park near the Johnson ranch will be equipped with "guest" cabins and a pitch and putt golf course. "This will take one million of your tax dollars."

4. $200,000 will be used to defend "a heinous redistricting plan."

Rep. Kubiak said he voted against the bill, which includes these items:

1. $22 million for the districts of 10 members on the Conference Committee.

CTCOG Receives HUD Certification

Interim certification has been given to the Central Texas Council of Governments (CTCOG) by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as an areawide planning organization, the CTCOG executive committee has announced.

The certification is from May 1, 1971 to May 1, 1972.

"This is a constructive step toward achieving full certification and eligibility for participation in various HUD grant and loan programs for your member governments," the HUD area director said in a letter to CTCOG.

Charles Cass, CTCOG executive director, said "This is worth a whole pile of money. Now the funds won't be blocked." He said some applications to HUD had been stalled before CTCOG was granted certification.

Neither Milam County or Cameron has joined CTCOG, however, the city council is studying the possibility of the city's joining the council of governments.

2. $200,000 to defend "unjust, unconstitutional Redistricting bill."

3. Approximately $5 million to the Speaker's district for a new hospital which was twelfth on the list of priorities.

4. Appropriated $800,000 to purchase the Austin Hotel.

5. Raised appellate judges salary to $30,000.

6. $6.9 million for the operation of the Senate including a $24,000 per month expense allowance.

Kubiak added that the committee left out a rider which required state agencies to keep a list of personnel who use airplanes for state business. "The public should have a right to know how their planes are used, but the leadership chose to delete this," he said.

"In essence, this Appropriations bill has approximately $200 million in 'pork barrel' wasteful spending and in no way can be justified," he added.

Mrs. Blasienz Dies; Was Herald Correspondent

Mrs. J. A. Blasienz, 74, of Rosebud, died Saturday in a Rosebud hospital after a short illness.

She was born in Yarrellton and had lived in Clarkston for 50 years before moving to Rosebud three years ago.

Mrs. Blasienz was a longtime correspondent for The Cameron Herald, writing the Clarkston news for years.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Hoelscher Funeral Home in Rosebud, the Rev. W. N. Wilcox and the Rev. Jack Mitchell officiating. Burial was in the Little River Cemetery.

Surviving are a stepson, John A. Blasienz of Bryan; a daughter, Mrs. D. D. Harrison of Dallas; two stepdaughters, Mrs. O. J. Rhodes of Smiley and Mrs. Archie Wilson of Bryan; a sister, Mrs. W. F. Vaughan of Bristow, Okla.; three grandchildren; four stepgrandchildren and 12 stepgreat-grandchildren.

11th District Loses 2, Gains 5

The 62nd Legislature Friday adopted the Conference Committee Report reappportioning the state into 24 congressional districts.

The 11th Congressional District loses Limestone and Robertson Counties on the east and gains Williamson, Burnet, Lampasas, Mills and Hamilton on the west and south.

State Sen. Murray Watson, reporting on the legislative action, said "While I regret that two counties had to be lost, I am especially pleased that the Central Texas Congressional District will remain basically intact so areas of common interest can continue to be represented together."

Friday, Saturday...

City Readies For Folk Fete

It's here again -- Cameron's second annual Folk Fete -- and bigger and better than the first.

Finishing touches will be put on the booths in City Park, headquarters again for the event, parade entries are readying for Saturday, and musicians are turning up for their turn in the park pavilion, set to echo to a variety of sounds.

The Fete gets started Friday morning with the Funkadelics playing from 10 until 11:30. Food booths will be open, as will club and other organization booths. Exhibits of art and crafts will also be open in the park and at Cameron Library.

Country-western music will be provided by The Wagon Wheels in the bandstand from 1 until 3 p.m., and the Funkadelics will return to play from 6 until 7:30 p.m.

Don't worry about cooking supper -- sumptuous foods will be available at the ethnic booths in the park. A new booth this year will feature corn on the cob, rolled in butter.

Tickets are required for only three events -- the Friday and Saturday night programs at Yoe Field, the pilgrimage of homes, and the garden party. The tickets will be sold at the gate of Yoe Field, at the five homes, and at the garden party.

Friday night's program at Yoe Field will have Gene Smitherman as master of ceremonies.

Folk Fete beauties from Rockdale, Buckholts, Hearne, Caldwell, Thorndale, Milano and Cameron will be introduced in a pageant. Folk Fete Belles will also be presented.

Music will be provided by Little Eppie and the Latin Fives, a country and western band, Vrazel Polka Band, an Irish band, the Sour Krauts, and spirituals sung by the Lights Chapel Choir. A quartet will sing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" for the finale.

Saturday's festival of events starts with the parade at 10 a.m. (see story, this page) and music from 10:30 until 11:30 by Little Eppie and the Latin Fives, in the bandstand. All booths and exhibits will be open, including paintings and sculpture at the Library.

The Funkadelics will play from 11:30 until 1 p.m. in the bandstand.

The pilgrimage of historic homes starts at 11 a.m. and will end at 4 p.m. The homes are: the Earl Johnson home, 100 N. Crockett; the McIver home, 102 E. 2nd; the Martin home, 404 W. 4th; the Bush home, 101 E. 6th; and the Reese home, 206 W. 8th.

Meanwhile, an old fiddlers contest will be held in the park starting at 2 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the best fiddlers.

The garden party at the Hilliard Thomas home, 1901 N. Hoover will be held from 4 until 6 p.m.

Keep eating that delicious food at the park while the Funkadelics play from 5:30 until 7 p.m. Then at 8, follow the crowd to Yoe Field, where Cactus Pryor will MC the night's program.

Authentic folk dances by dancers in authentic costumes will be the order of the evening, when Czech, Mexican, Negro, Western, Irish, and German dances will rock the stage on Yoe Field.

The program will close with the singing of "America the Beautiful" by Mrs. T. D. Corley.

Dances will be held Friday and Saturday nights following the programs at Yoe Field. Friday night Vrazel Polka Band will play and Saturday night's band will be Jerry, Butch, and The Gentrys.

The dances are sponsored by the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department.

Have fun!

Parade To Start Events Saturday

A bigger and more colorful parade than last year's is the promise for Saturday's Folk Fete opener, when some 30 or 40 entries are expected.

Intricate floats, antique cars, pretty girls, and motor scooters are just some of the eye-catching entries signed up for the event.

The seven ethnic groups represented in the 1971 Folk Fete will have floats and others will represent area towns and groups. Floats are also expected from Giddings and Georgetown.

The parade will start from the First Baptist Church at 10 a.m., wind its way down Main to Fannin, turn left on Fannin and again left on West 1st, turn right on Houston, and right again on West 2nd, then left to Fannin and will disband at the Library location.

In addition to floats, the Folk Fete Belles will be riding in new cars, and area beauties will also be displayed in cars and on floats.

Two Shrine groups will ride motor scooters.

Awards will be presented to the three best entries in the parade, according to Henry Litzman, parade marshal.

ARTIST Jim Bowman will have a 'now generation' art gallery in the Folk Fete art and craft section of City Park Friday and Saturday. The gallery will display about 60 of the young artist's paintings and sketches.

'Now Generation' Art In Bowman Gallery

Folk Fete's intent to embrace the past and the present is strikingly realized this year with a pilgrimage of historic homes and a 'now generation' art gallery on the same program.

Jim Bowman, former art major at the University of Texas, will be the two day proprietor of the strictly modern Folk Fete art gallery. He is joined in the venture by his sisters Mary and Laura who will sell beads and candles they have made. The gallery even offers music for visitors. Tony Tichenor will play folk blues and some original compositions during the two day fair.

The 12 x 10' art gallery (formerly a used car office) has been moved to the art and craft booth section at City Park ready for the Friday Folk Fete opening. A parachute opened to cover the ceiling and Indian rug on the floor provide an interesting background to Bowman's distinctive art.

Most of the artist's work is in abstract form, of pen and ink or oils. Though most of his sketches are far from light in mood, they are refreshing to the adult who often stereotypes youth as unthinking or irresponsible.

Bowman is a social commentator on canvas. His work shows an intense interest and understanding of the relationship between God and man. God depicted as an eye, sometimes large, other times a small part of the canvas, occasionally in motion.

Where do his ideas originate? "Very often I just start sketching with no real idea of what will come. I just let my hand follow the pen," Bowman said. He confides his view of the world and himself in some of his sketches. Many of his graphics are vivid essays on the youth dilemma.

Folk Fete visitors will not want to rush through the Bowman art gallery. The sketches found there are not the type to be viewed, enjoyed and passed by. They are thoughts on canvas with movement and often a message.

Breakin Nets Shotgun Blast For Local Man

A young Cameron man was shot in the leg early Saturday morning when he and two other young men broke in to the Western Bar.

According to Sheriff Carl Black, the incident occurred about 1:30 Saturday morning.

Jimmy Housley of Cameron is in a Temple hospital where he underwent surgery on his right thigh. He was shot by the bar owner, Frank Horelica, with a 16 gauge shotgun.

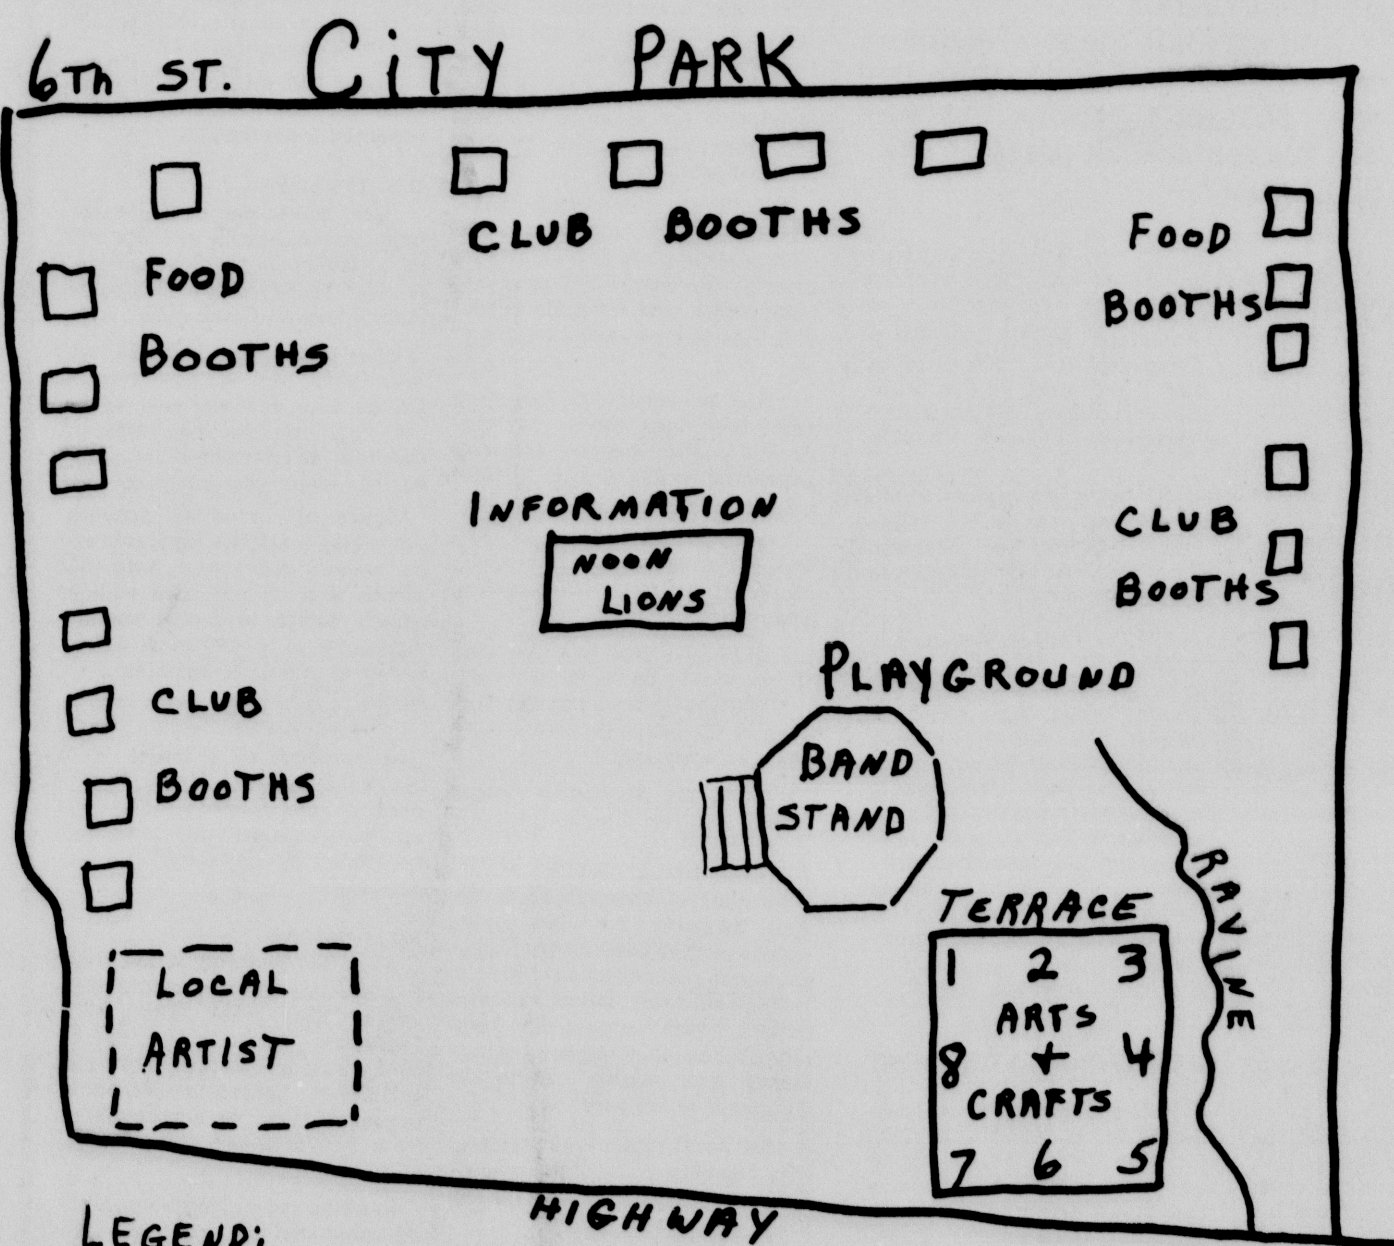

Housley's companions, Doyle Bryan and Gary Curtis, were charged in Justice of the Peace Jess Brock's court with breaking and entering, and posted $1500 bond each.

Horelica told Sheriff Black he was sleeping in the place when the three young men forced open a window. Housley came in and when Horelica spoke to him he tried to get out. Horelica told the sheriff he fired at Housley as he was trying to get out of the window.

The other two apparently helped Housley to their car and they drove to Rockdale to Richards Hospital. Sheriff Black called the Rockdale police who told him the hospital had just reported a gun wound.

Folk Fete... One Day The Biggest?

Many who saw the confluence of peoples in the first Folk Fete wondered how it happened and what it meant, beyond the obvious success of a venture into a community festival.

Observers will be quite pleased at the broadening uniqueness of this second outing June 11-12, this Friday and Saturday, by Gar, as the Norseman says.

Folk Fete, first of all, is cultural. It testifies to the fun civilized people can have in the broad spectrum of talent participating in this Folk Fete. This confluence must meet some need for justice and hope or it could not have this broad spectrum, this year adding an Irish touch.

Folk Fete, though still aborning, is fun. It tells about our different peoples the way everyone can understand: by the dancing and singing and costuming and artistry and architecture of so diverse a group. It makes us laugh at ourselves and with others. It sees us as we were, perhaps, as in complex times older ones might wish us still. But the young generation and the transitional middle age see some basis from which they move to whatever we, as a new, more homogenous people, become.

Folk Fete is indigenous. These are our people, from each ethnic and cultural stock, who actually live in or on Milam borders. What we see in song and dance and art we often have seen, but have taken for granted. Brought together, it is spectacular and fascinating.

Folk Fete is unique in Texas. No one else has a seven-group representation on the same stage in the same town at the same time. It is a story of non-metro Milam County with a metropolitan mix of peoples who, through Folk Fete, throw a growing and potentially enormous block party, not just for one neighborhood, but the whole town, the whole county, and for that matter, the whole state.

Everywhere Folk Fete is discussed, its diversity fascinates the listener. In a day when no one is particularly fascinated about anything, that appeal is some kind of achievement.

What started with about 5,000 people will quite likely draw twice that number Friday and Saturday. The number of booths is double or triple. Singing groups have been added to the Friday night presentation. Five TV audiences have seen parts of the groups. Daily newspapers throughout the state are writing stories and running pictures.

They speak in awe of New Braunfels and Ennis and other attractions. And those who know of Folk Fete say we can go them better.

And with all these elements working toward Folk Fete II, why shouldn't it one day be the biggest block party in the Southwest?

Dateline Austin...

14 More Amendments To Face Voters In November

By Vern Sanford

Legislature in regular session agreed to submit 14 more proposed constitutional amendments to voters in November, 1972.

Among major ones is HJR 61, which would authorize the 1973 Legislature to serve as a constitutional revision convention.

Two others (HJR 58 and HJR 95) would provide for raise in salaries of legislators to $8,400 and lieutenant governor and House speaker to $22,500.

Other amendments on the general election ballot in 1972 will be:

* SJR 1--Providing four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials now limited to two-year terms.

* SJR 16--Guaranteeing that no rights will be abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

* SJR 7--Permitting local governments on popular vote to exempt $3,000 of assessed value of resident homesteads of persons 65 or older from all ad valorem taxes.

* HJR 68--Providing for advertising (twice) of proposed constitutional amendments in clear, concise language in all legal newspapers in Texas.

* HJR 35--Authorizing a tax exemption for disabled veterans and a partial exemption for partially-disabled veterans.

* HJR 57--Permitting county commissioners to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for payment of money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholarship basis.

* SJR 29--Providing that state employees can serve on non-paying school boards and city governing bodies without forfeiting state pay.

* SJR 20--Exempting soil and water conservation district directors from dual office-holding prohibitions.

* HJR 61--Relating to rates of interest to be borne by bonds.

* HJR 41--Requiring that justices of the peace be compensated on salary basis.

* HJR 31--Abolishing Lamar County hospital district.

JOBLESS ROLL DROPS
Number of unemployed in the state decreased 6,000 during April to 181,000, Texas Employment Commission reports.

TEC said the jobless rate was only 3.8 per cent of the total labor force, thus the decline may signal a "possible end to the doldrums of the past year."

Mid-April figure was identical with December, 1970 and considered probably the lowest of the year.

Thirteen labor areas reported improvements. Austin enjoyed the lowest rate of unemployment in the state -- 1.8 per cent of labor force.

APPOINTMENTS

State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert named William Skelton of Lubbock as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. Senate confirmed the appointment.

Charles W. Horan Jr., Fort Worth, is the new chairman of Texas Tourist Development Board, succeeding John R. McCarty of Dallas. George Dillman of Dallas is vice-chairman.

Appointed branch pilots for Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries were Capt. James William Throgmorton of Groves and Capt. Daniel Joseph Bromley also of Groves. Gov. Preston Smith asked the Senate's approval of the nominations.

LIQUOR TAX PASSED

Tax on liquor - by - the - drink passed in the first days of the special legislative session.

Measure (HB 3) will place a 10 per cent gross receipts levy on sales and service of mixed drinks in bars and private clubs. Cities and counties each will get 15 per cent of the revenue collected within their boundaries.

Bill also boosted the tax on liquor from $1.68 to $2 a gallon and upped the wine gallonage tax depending on strength of the wine.

Beer tax on July 1 will go up from $4.30 to $5 a barrel. This rate supercedes the $6 a barrel ordered in the regular session omnibus tax bill (HB 730).

About $28 million in new revenue for the next two years is expected from the bill.

COURTS SPEAK

Clark's discount house in Abilene cannot legally arrange with an allied concern (Sundaco Inc.) to offer Sunday sales in its store, State Supreme Court ruled.

High Court also reversed and sent back for a new trial a Dallas auto accident case where the jury returned two different verdicts as to which driver failed to yield the right-of-way.

Court of Criminal Appeals, reversing a Galena Park robbery by assault conviction, held that jurors are not qualified without expert advice to decide whether signature of a defendant is the same as that on criminal records.

A San Antonio man's claim that removal of a bullet from his back was an illegal search because the surgeon turned the slug over to a policeman was overruled by Court of Criminal Appeals.

AG OPINIONS

A called session of the Legislature cannot pass a legislative redistricting bill, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a recent opinion. Martin held that unfinished Senatorial reapportionment must be accomplished by a five-member committee of state officials.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*Taxing authority of a junior college district is specified by the Texas Education Code, regardless of whether the board of trustees of the district is also board of trustees of the independent school district. If a separate board of trustees is created for the junior college district, it would have control and management of all district property but only such control over school district property as the district board agrees to.

*Alcoholic Beverage Commission has no authority of jurisdiction to regulate beer sales by vendors who sell from ship's chandlery under U.S. Customs bond.

*State Treasurer will receive fines collected in district court for violation of the Texas Motor Carrier Act, and neither district attorney nor district clerk may retain a percentage.

*A bill providing for establishment of a schedule of abused drugs by rule of the State Board of Pharmacy and for dispensing of drugs is constitutional.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the country's biggest cities, biggest railroad, biggest plane manufacturer and smallest farmers are all in the same boat -- they're busted.

Take the cities, for example, since there are so many of them and only one busted railroad and one busted plane maker and as for the farmers, that's nothing new, they've been hard up for the last 50 years.

But cities, why three-fourths of the entire population live in the big cities and if they're facing financial disaster you can't push them under the rug as though they were marginal farmers or unemployed Ph.D's.

As a result there is a drive on, according to the newspapers that turn up out here, to help the big cities with what is called revenue sharing. The Federal government would distribute 5 or 6 billion dollars to the cities to use as they please, patching up their streets, unclogging their sewers, replacing the broken window panes in their school buildings, re-arranging their slums, paying off the second lien on their transportation system, fighting crime, etc.; then when that played out, well, no use getting too far ahead, they'd cross that bridge when they came to it, provided Congress furnished the money to make the bridge cross-able.

The problem is far too big for me to handle. In fact I'm no better able to handle it than the average big city mayor.

But I do agree with one Congressman who was wrestling hard with the problem. He said he didn't know what the answer was either but, and I quote, "we can't let the cities go down the drain."

He's absolutely right about that. The lakes and streams of this country are already in such bad shape and the cities' sewer systems are already so overburdened that if you let the cities wash down into them the pollution problem would be so big it staggers the imagination. Where's the river that could handle even Temple not to mention New York or Los Angeles? It'd take a thousand years to get the rivers and lakes back in fishing condition.

I don't care what it costs, let's hold the cities together where they are. We can worry about the railroad and airplanes later.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Borderline Case

Preparing for summertime festivities, the Thompsons built a brick barbecue pit at the back end of their property. But neighbor Hanks took a dim view of the project. Checking the boundary line, he discovered that the bricks protruded several feet onto his land.

Mortified, the Thompsons offered to buy the strip of land for a fair price. But Hanks wasn't interested in money. Instead, he demanded that the structure itself be removed.

And when he carried his demand into court, the judge did order the bricks removed. The judge said Hanks could not be forced to sell a piece of his land, however small, that he chose to keep for himself.

This is the law's traditional view, when an object overlaps the boundary line onto a neighbor's property. Whether it is a barbecue pit or a gutter or a fence or a garage wall, the neighbor may usually insist an actual physical removal -- rather than having to accept money as compensation.

However, removal can be costly indeed -- a real hardship on the first party. In recent years, courts have shown a growing willingness to "weigh the equities" of the situation, refusing to order a removal that is plainly unjust. Take this case:

A farmer was haled into court on the ground that the wall of his garage extended exactly one inch into a neighbor's farm. The neighbor demanded destruction of the wall; the court said no.

Noting the slightness of the intrusion, the court said:

"The law does not bother with trifles." What if the intrusion is not by mistake but on purpose? That tilts the scales sharply in favor of the neighbor. Almost always, the court will order outright removal, regardless of the hardship it may entail.

In one case, a boundary line between two lots was in open dispute between the owners. One owner, without waiting for the dispute to be settled, went ahead and built a house on what he thought was his own land.

As it turned out later, his house extended almost four feet into the adjacent lot. Here, a court ordered him to remove the house, despite the obvious hardship. The court said he could not complain of a predicament he walked into with his eyes open.

If you're remodeling because you need more space, chances are you'll need a new water heater, too. Make it electric.

You'll need more hot water with that extra bath or that modernized kitchen, and your old water heater may not be able to handle the job. But a new electric water heater can!

It has more recovery power... reheats fast. So, all the hot water you need comes on strong through the last load of laundry and the last bedtime shower. An electric water heater is safe, too.

It needs no flue and the cabinet is always touch-cool... install it almost anywhere. Ask your building contractor, electric appliance dealer, plumber or TP&L about a new, dependable electric water heater!

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

DOUBTS ACCURACY OF PUBLIC OPINION POLL

SENATOR HUGH SCOTT (Pa.) "...I would challenge Mr. Harris to ask the following questions in his next poll and supply the answers."

"Have you seen any poll which at any time inquired whether the people of this country would have believed that the Cambodian forces following Sihanouk's departure would be capable of the five-fold increase through the volunteer system in their military strikes?"

"Have you seen any poll which inquired in advance as to whether or not the Cambodians would be capable of making a strong defense of their country in their own right?"

"Have you ever seen a poll which asks whether the American people approve or disapprove of the President's withdrawal of two-thirds of the American forces?"

"IT'S ALL IN THE ASKING OF THE QUESTIONS."

"Opinion Research Corp. this weekend presented a completely different viewpoint on the public's reaction to the war when more substantive questions were asked."

"Here are some of the results of that survey:

"First, By an overwhelming margin of 72 percent to 18 percent, the American people 'support' President Nixon in his plan to end the war in Southeast Asia."

"Second, Support for the proposed congressional plan for pulling out all U.S. troops by December 31 almost evaporates--when the American people are confronted with the possible consequences such as jeopardy to our POW's or a Communist takeover."

"Third, Well over half the American people oppose a December 31, 1971 deadline for withdrawal, if that withdrawal means a Communist takeover of South Vietnam.

"Fourth, By almost 7 to 1 Americans oppose any year-end withdrawal that threatens the lives or safety of American prisoners of war."

"Fifth, The earlier poll is misleading and has been grossly misinterpreted because, while the American people will support almost any plan that promises an end to the war--they clearly will support no plan that either endangers our prisoners, or threatens a Communist takeover..." (The results of this survey were obtained by nationwide telephone interviews.)

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Public opinion polls have much in common with I.Q. tests. A great deal depends on how the questions are asked. An example is the old question, to be answered yes, or no, "Have you stopped beating your wife?"--J.C.

Folk Fete... One Day The Biggest?

Many who saw the confluence of peoples in the first Folk Fete wondered how it happened and what it meant, beyond the obvious success of a venture into a community festival.

Observers will be quite pleased at the broadening uniqueness of this second outing June 11-12, this Friday and Saturday, by Gar, as the Norseman says.

Folk Fete, first of all, is cultural. It testifies to the fun civilized people can have in the broad spectrum of talent participating in this Folk Fete. This confluence must meet some need for justice and hope or it could not have this broad spectrum, this year adding an Irish touch.

Folk Fete, though still aborning, is fun. It tells about our different peoples the way everyone can understand: by the dancing and singing and costuming and artistry and architecture of so diverse a group. It makes us laugh at ourselves and with others. It sees us as we were, perhaps, as in complex times older ones might wish us still. But the young generation and the transitional middle age see some basis from which they move to whatever we, as a new, more homogenous people, become.

Folk Fete is indigenous. These are our people, from each ethnic and cultural stock, who actually live in or on Milam borders. What we see in song and dance and art we often have seen, but have taken for granted. Brought together, it is spectacular and fascinating.

Folk Fete is unique in Texas. No one else has a seven-group representation on the same stage in the same town at the same time. It is a story of non-metro Milam County with a metropolitan mix of peoples who, through Folk Fete, throw a growing and potentially enormous block party, not just for one neighborhood, but the whole town, the whole county, and for that matter, the whole state.

Everywhere Folk Fete is discussed, its diversity fascinates the listener. In a day when no one is particularly fascinated about anything, that appeal is some kind of achievement.

What started with about 5,000 people will quite likely draw twice that number Friday and Saturday. The number of booths is double or triple. Singing groups have been added to the Friday night presentation. Five TV audiences have seen parts of the groups. Daily newspapers throughout the state are writing stories and running pictures.

They speak in awe of New Braunfels and Ennis and other attractions. And those who know of Folk Fete say we can go them better.

And with all these elements working toward Folk Fete II, why shouldn't it one day be the biggest block party in the Southwest?

DOUBTS ACCURACY OF PUBLIC OPINION POLL

SENATOR HUGH SCOTT (Pa.) "...I would challenge Mr. Harris to ask the following questions in his next poll and supply the answers."

"Have you seen any poll which at any time inquired whether the people of this country would have believed that the Cambodian forces following Sihanouk's departure would be capable of the five-fold increase through the volunteer system in their military strikes?"

"Have you seen any poll which inquired in advance as to whether or not the Cambodians would be capable of making a strong defense of their country in their own right?"

"Have you ever seen a poll which asks whether the American people approve or disapprove of the President's withdrawal of two-thirds of the American forces?"

"IT'S ALL IN THE ASKING OF THE QUESTIONS."

"Opinion Research Corp. this weekend presented a completely different viewpoint on the public's reaction to the war when more substantive questions were asked."

"Here are some of the results of that survey:

"First. By an overwhelming margin of 72 percent to 18 percent, the American people 'Support' President Nixon in his plan to end the war in Southeast Asia."

"Second. Support for the proposed congressional plan for pulling out all U.S. troops by December 31 almost evaporates--when the American people are confronted with the possible consequences such as jeopardy to our POW's or a Communist takeover."

"Third. Well over half the American people oppose a December 31, 1971 deadline for withdrawal, if that withdrawal means a Communist takeover of South Vietnam.

"Fourth. By almost 7 to 1 Americans oppose any year-end withdrawal that threatens the lives or safety of American prisoners of war."

"Fifth. The earlier poll is misleading and has been grossly misinterpreted because, while the American people will support almost any plan that promises an end to the war--they clearly will support no plan that either endangers our prisoners, or threatens a Communist takeover..." (The results of this survey were obtained by nation wide telephone interviews.)

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Public opinion polls have much in common with I.Q. tests. A great deal depends on how the questions are asked. An example is the old question, to be answered yes, or no, "Have you stopped beating your wife?"--J.C.

14 More Amendments To Face Voters In November

By Vern Sanford

Legislature in regular session agreed to submit 14 more proposed constitutional amendments to voters in November, 1972.

Among major ones is HJR 61, which would authorize the 1973 Legislature to serve as a constitutional revision convention.

Two others (HJR 58 and HJR 95) would provide for raise in salaries of legislators (to $8,400) and lieutenant governor and House speaker (to $22,500).

Other amendments on the general election ballot in 1972 will be:

* SJR 1--Providing four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials now limited to two-year terms.

* SJR 16--Guaranteeing that no rights will be abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

* SJR 7--Permitting local governments on popular vote to exempt $3,000 of assessed value of resident homesteads of persons 65 or older from all ad valorem taxes.

* HJR 68--Providing for advertising (twice) of proposed constitutional amendments in clear, concise language in all legal newspapers in Texas.

* HJR 35--Authorizing a tax exemption for disabled veterans and a partial exemption for partially disabled veterans.

* HJR 57--Permitting county commissioners to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for payment of money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholarship basis.

* SJR 29--Providing that state employees can serve on non-paying school boards and city governing bodies without forfeiting state pay.

* SJR 20--Exempting soil and water conservation district directors from dual office-holding prohibitions.

* HJR 61--Relating to rates of interest to be borne by bonds.

* HJR 41--Requiring that justices of the peace be compensated on salary basis.

* HJR 31--Abolishing Lamar County hospital district.

JOBLESS ROLL DROPS
Number of unemployed in the state decreased 6,000 during April to 181,000, Texas Employment Commission reports.

TEC said the jobless rate was only 3.8 per cent of the total labor force, thus the decline may signal a "possible end to the doldrums of the past year."

Mid-April figure was identical with December, 1970 and considered probably the lowest of the year.

Thirteen labor areas reported improvements. Austin enjoyed the lowest rate of unemployment in the state -- 1.8 per cent of labor force.

APPOINTMENTS

State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert named William Skelton of Lubbock as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. Senate confirmed the appointment.

Charles W. Horan Jr., Fort Worth, is the new chairman of Texas Tourist Development Board, succeeding John R. McCarty of Dallas. George Dillman of Dallas is vice-chairman.

Appointed branch pilots for Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries were Capt. James William Throgmorton of Groves and Capt. Daniel Joseph Bromley also of Groves. Gov. Preston Smith asked the Senate's approval of the nominations.

LIQUOR TAX PASSED

Tax on liquor -- by the drink passed in the first days of the special legislative session.

Measure (HB 3) will place a 10 per cent gross receipts levy on sales and service of mixed drinks in bars and private clubs. Cities and counties each will get 15 per cent of the revenue collected within their boundaries.

Bill also boosted the tax on liquor from $1.68 to $2 a gallon and upped the wine gallonage tax depending on strength of the wine.

Beer tax on July 1 will go up from $4.30 to $5 a barrel. This rate supercedes the $6 a barrel ordered in the regular session omnibus tax bill (HB 730).

About $28 million in new revenue for the next two years is expected from the bill.

COURTS SPEAK

Clark's discount house in Abilene cannot legally arrange with an allied concern (Sundaco Inc.) to offer Sunday sales in its store, State Supreme Court ruled.

High Court also reversed and sent back for a new trial a Dallas auto accident case where the jury returned two different verdicts as to which driver failed to yield the right-of-way.

Court of Criminal Appeals, reversing a Galena Park robbery by assault conviction, held that jurors are not qualified without expert advice to decide whether signature of a defendant is the same as that on criminal records.

A San Antonio man's claim that removal of a bullet from his back was an illegal search because the surgeon turned the slug over to a policeman was overruled by Court of Criminal Appeals.

AG OPINIONS

A called session of the Legislature cannot pass a legislative redistricting bill, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a recent opinion. Martin held that unfinished Senatorial reapportionment must be accomplished by a five-member committee of state officials.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*Taxing authority of a junior college district is specified by the Texas Education Code, regardless of whether the board of trustees of the district is also board of trustees of the independent school district. If a separate board of trustees is created for the junior college district, it would have control and management of all district property but only such control over school district property as the district board agrees to.

*Alcoholic Beverage Commission has no authority of jurisdiction to regulate beer sales by vendors who sell from ship's chandlery under U.S. Customs bond.

*State Treasurer will receive fines collected in district court for violation of the Texas Motor Carrier Act, and neither district attorney nor district clerk may retain a percentage.

*A bill providing for establishment of a schedule of abused drugs by rule of the State Board of Pharmacy and for dispensing of drugs is constitutional.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the country's biggest cities, biggest railroad, biggest plane manufacturer and smallest farmers are all in the same boat -- they're busted.

Take the cities, for example, since there are so many of them and only one busted railroad and one busted plane maker and as for the farmers, that's nothing new, they've been hard up for the last 50 years.

But cities, why three-fourths of the entire population live in the big cities and if they're facing financial disaster you can't push them under the rug as though they were marginal farmers or unemployed Ph D's.

As a result there is a drive on, according to the newspapers that turn up out here, to help the big cities with what is called revenue sharing. The Federal government would distribute 5 or 6 billion dollars to the cities to use as they please, patching up their streets, unclogging their sewers, replacing the broken window panes in their school buildings, re-arranging their slums, paying off the second lien on their transportation system, fighting crime, etc.; then when that played out, well, no use getting too far ahead, they'd cross that bridge when they came to it, provided Congress furnished the money to make the bridge cross-able.

The problem is far too big for me to handle. In fact I'm no better able to handle it than the average big city mayor.

But I do agree with one Congressman who was wrestling hard with the problem. He said he didn't know what the answer was either but, and I quote, "we can't let the cities go down the drain."

He's absolutely right about that. The lakes and streams of this country are already in such bad shape and the cities' sewer systems are already so overburdened that if you let the cities wash down into them the pollution problem would be so big it staggers the imagination. Where's the river that could handle even Temple not to mention New York or Los Angeles? It'd take a thousand years to get the rivers and lakes back in fishing condition.

I don't care what it costs, let's hold the cities together where they are. We can worry about the railroad and airplanes later.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Borderline Case

Preparing for summertime festivities, the Thompsons built a brick barbecue pit at the back end of their property. But neighbor Hanks took a dim view of the project. Checking the boundary line, he discovered that the bricks protruded several feet onto his land.

Mortified, the Thompsons offered to buy the strip of land for a fair price. But Hanks wasn't interested in money. Instead, he demanded that the structure itself be removed.

And when he carried his demand into court, the judge did order the bricks removed. The judge said Hanks could not be forced to sell a piece of his land, however small, that he chose to keep for himself.

This is the law's traditional view, when an object overlaps the boundary line onto a neighbor's property. Whether it is a barbecue pit or a gutter or a fence or a garage wall, the neighbor may usually insist an actual physical removal -- rather than having to accept money as compensation.

However, removal can be costly indeed--a real hardship on the first party. In recent years, courts have shown a growing willingness to "weigh the equities" of the situation, refusing to order a removal that is plainly unjust. Take this case:

A farmer was haled into court on the ground that the wall of his garage extended exactly one inch into a neighbor's farm. The neighbor demanded destruction of the wall; the court said no.

Noting the slightness of the intrusion, the court said:

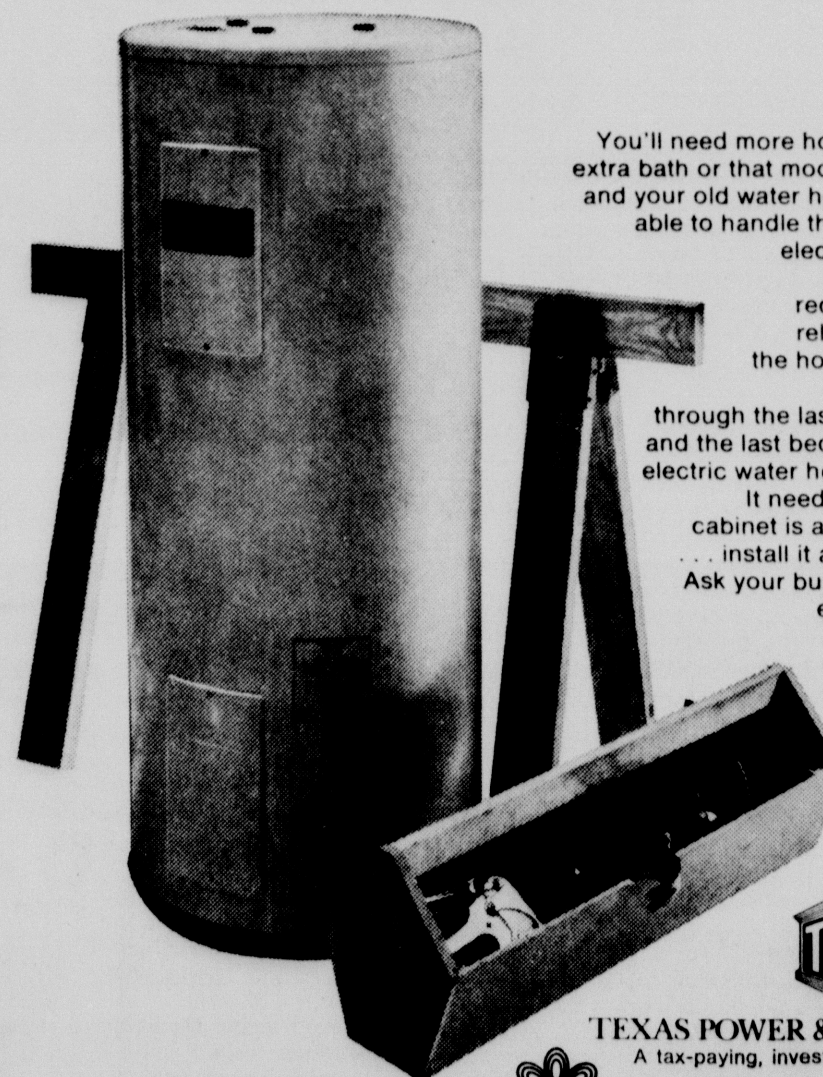

"The law does not bother with trifles."

What if the intrusion is not by mistake but on purpose? That tilts the scales sharply in favor of the neighbor. Almost always, the court will order outright removal, regardless of the hardship it may entail.

In one case, a boundary line between two lots was in open dispute between the owners. One owner, without waiting for the dispute to be settled, went ahead and built a house on what he thought was his own land.

As it turned out later, his house extended almost four feet into the adjacent lot. Here, a court ordered him to remove the house, despite the obvious hardship. The court said he could not complain of a predicament he walked into with his eyes open.

County Agent's Notes

County Crops Reports Needed

By J. D. Moore

In early July, some 22,000 Texas farmers will receive an acreage and production of selected crops questionnaire from Cary D. Palmer, Agricultural Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

This information will be the basis for determining harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the State of Texas and for each county.

There are 254 counties in Texas and reports are needed from many farmers so that each county will be well represented.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing unbiased picture of Texas Agriculture.

The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that Statetotals along do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry - agriculture. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

STILES FARM BARBECUE

Those Milam Countians wanting tickets to the Stiles tour barbecue may get a ticket at Rodenbeck's Feed and Seed in Thorndale, either of the gins at Buckholts or from the county agents office in Cameron.

The Stiles Farm Foundation's ninth annual field day is set for June 22, 1971. A tour, highlighting various enterprises of the farm, will begin at 2:00 p.m.

According to Calvin Rinn, manager of Stiles Farm, visitors will have an opportunity to see and hear results of work with grain sorghum, sunflowers, guar, cowpeas, cotton, beef cattle, commercial swine and forages.

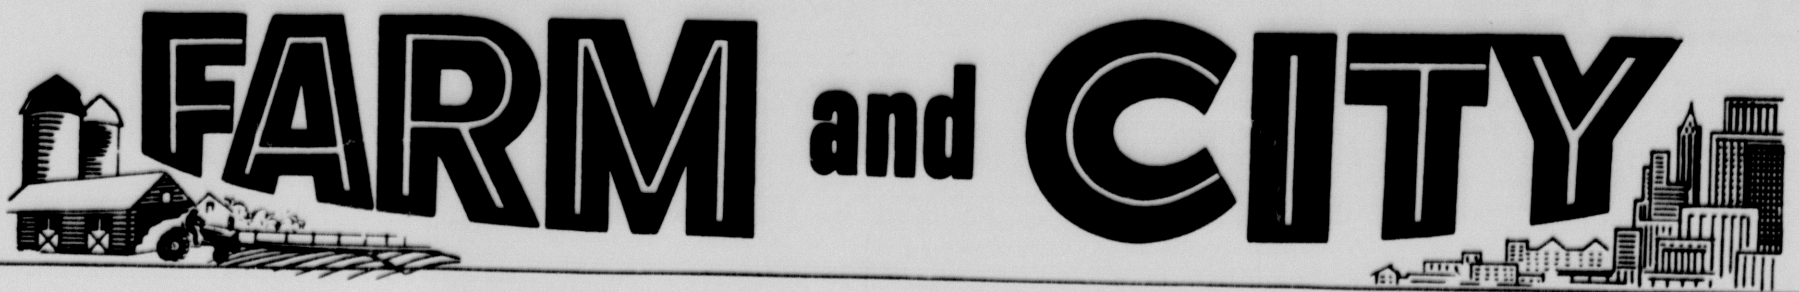

Following the farm tour, Dr. Jack K. Williams, president of the Texas A&M University System, will address the group. Stiles scholarships will be presented to several area youths by Dr. H. O. Kunkel, Dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M.

Researchers and specialists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension Service will be available to answer questions concerning various production and management problems.

Stiles Farm operates as a demonstration farm for the Central Texas Blackland area. Established in 1961, the model farm demonstrates research proven practices through guidelines of the Blackland Growth (BIG) program.

A free barbecue, sponsored by the Taylor Chamber of Commerce and businessmen of Williamson County, will be served following the program. Tickets are available from local county agents office, Rodenbeck's in Thorndale and the two gins in Buckholts.

Interested persons are invited to attend the annual event. The farm is located one mile east of Thrall on U.S. Highway 70.

Drought May Cause Vitamin A Deficiency

Cattlemen should be keeping a closer eye out for vitamin A deficiencies where drought conditions have reduced the quality of the hay and forage they normally feed their livestock.

Breeding cows that are vitamin A deficient will probably give the stockman his most harmful and most costly problem, according to L. A. Maddox Jr., Extension beef cattle specialist. While breeding cows that are deficient in the vitamin may continue to have estrus periods, fewer cows become pregnant. If the pregnant animal is severely deficient, she may abort the calf or give birth to dead, weak or blind calves.

Cattle can store the vitamin, but calves at birth have practically no body storage of carotene (vitamin A) and they must depend on a supply from the colostrum or milk.

Younger animals tend to show signs of vitamin deficiency in less time than older ones, but there are differences among individuals of the same age who receive the same treatment.

Calves weighing between 250-400 pounds may show deficiency symptoms in 40-80 days. Those above 400 pounds show symptoms in 80-140 days and older cattle show signs in 100-150 days, Maddox notes.

To have sufficient vitamin A to be able to save their calves, cows must have good green hay, ample silage, vitamin A fortified concentrates or synthetic vitamin A.

Synthetic vitamin A can be mixed with feed, injected intramuscularly and/or administered in controlled drinking water. Maddox reminds stockmen that products containing vitamin A should be stored in cool, dark places because the vitamin loses its potency when exposed to sunlight, air and heat.

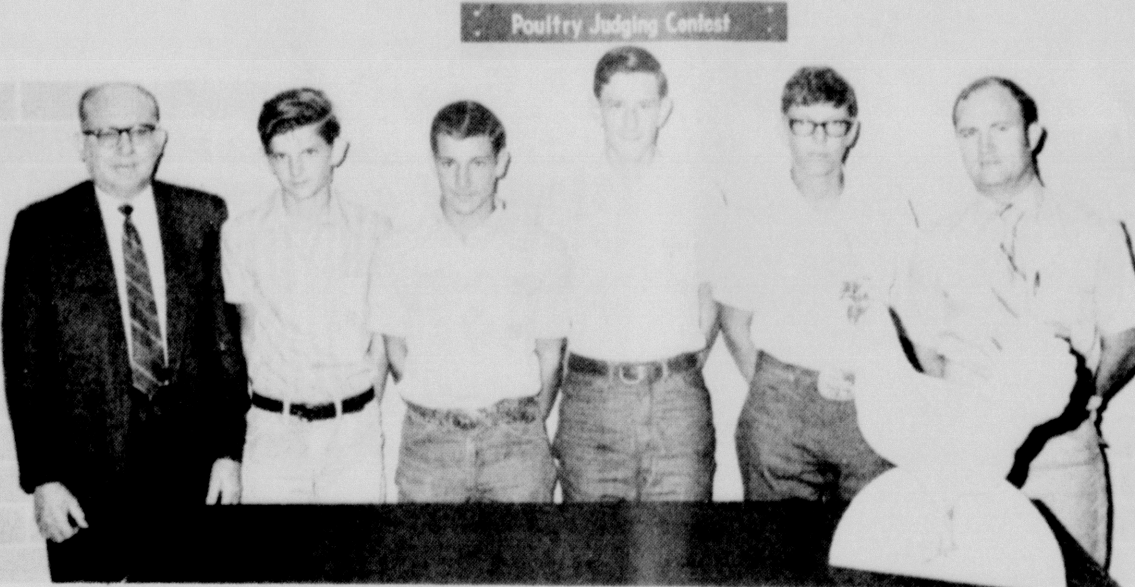

Alfalfa and silage are two of the better natural sources of the vitamin. A bright pea green color is usually a good indicator of vitamin potency in hay, but it isn't completely reliable, Maddox warns.

Hays that contain molds as a result of heating have probably lost some or all of their vitamin A potency. Chemical testing procedures give the most reliable determination of the vitamin.

One symptom of the early stages of vitamin A deficiency is night blindness, but other signs such as watering eyes and some swelling joints are easier to recognize, Maddox says.

In the latter stages cattle become less alert and lose their appetites. Other symptoms of prolonged vitamin A deficiencies are nasal discharges, rapid breathing, staggering gait, convulsions, or complete blindness.

Another sign that is characteristic of the vitamin deficiency is sluggishness. A staggering gait has also been noted. If this condition goes unremedied, the cattle will become unmarketable and will eventually die, Maddox says.

CHICKEN JUDGES - Milam County's 4-H Poultry Judging team which participated in the state competition conducted on the campus of Texas A&M University, June 3. From left, Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head of the Poultry Science Dept. at A&M, Robert Riola, Ricky Richter, David Ehler, Jerry Mueck, and Danny Phillips, assistant County Agricultural Agent coached the team.

4-H Team Scores High In Poultry Judging Contest

Milam County's 4-H Poultry Judging team was named one of Texas' top team groups of chicken judges in the 1971 State Contest here June 3. These high finishers scored 2329 points of a possible 2700.

Team members were: Ricky Richter, David Ehler, Jerry Mueck, and Robert Riola all of Cameron. The group was coached by Danny Phillips, Assistant County Agent.

Ehler was high point individual of this team. He scored 788 points out of a perfect 900.

Brazos County coached by Tom Sistrunk, County Agricultural Agent was first. Second place went to Harris County coached by Associate County Agent, Don Portie.

The 4-H Poultry Judging Contest is sponsored by the Texas Poultry Improvement Association. An all-expense paid trip to the 4-H Invitational Interstate Poultry Judging Contest at Chicago is awarded to the winning team by the TPIA.

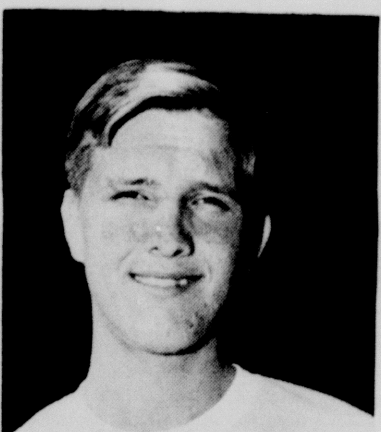

COMPETITION

American farmers face increased competition for wheat from other nations. Russian wheat production was up 28 percent in 1970, to 80 million tons. Africa's output raised 13 percent and Asian output was up four percent.

cago is awarded to the winning team by the TPIA.

Brazos County as State Champions will represent Texas in the National Contest. Lone Star teams have won two national championships and placed second in the National Contest in 1961 and 1967.

Award medals were presented to members of the top three teams and to the three high individuals.

BEST 4-H DAIRY CATTLE JUDGE --- Clyde Jistel of Cameron was high point individual in dairy cattle judging during the annual Texas 4-H Roundup June 2-3 at A&M University. The state champ is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jistel. He was coached by Milam County Assistant Agricultural Agent Danny Phillips.

ASCS NEWS

By Douglas Buck

Producer certification is proceeding at a slow rate in the set-aside farm programs in Milam County.

A producer certification is required before a producer receives his set-aside program payment. To certify, a farmer comes in to the County ASCS Office, designates his set-aside acreage on a photocopy of his farm, certifies his conserving base acreage and compliance with other program provisions.

After certification, ASCS begins processing the data for that producer's farm program payment. Also after certification his farm is subject to spotcheck. Farmers should be sure planting operations which are affected by program provisions are completed before they certify, since no changes can be made after certification. Certification relates only to crops covered by farm program provisions.

Once his planting operations are completed, it is to a producer's advantage to certify as early as possible since this will help assure receiving payment as early as possible after July 1.

The final date for certifying to program acreage in Milam County is July 1, 1971.

Instructions have recently been received in the county office to take all necessary steps to assure that farmers participating in the feed grain, wheat, and cotton set-aside programs receive preliminary payments in accordance with the Agricultural Act of 1970 which provides for them to be made as soon as practicable after July 1.

The instruction also emphasized that the decision on early certification and resulting early payment rests with each farmer. Those who are still undecided regarding crop dispositions, and location and use of set-aside acreage have until July 1 to certify.

Roll Top Desks Now Best Sellers

The old-fashioned roll top desk isn't old any more.

Consumers are clamoring to buy modernized versions manufactured by now producing, announces Jan Slabaugh, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

The "new" roll top desks have nylon tracks for slates to roll on, allowing for more dependable rolling action than the original roll tops. The desk rolls easily and stays neatly in its track.

Roll tops are scaled for smaller apartments. You can conveniently roll the top over without putting it away, yet still hide the clutter.

Styles and prices of the roll tops range widely. Most designs, though, are small in scale and are quite dainty, the specialist adds.

GLAMOROUS REFRESHER

Chocolate milk is a glamorous refresher when served in frosted glasses with a whipped cream garnish. To frost glasses, dip rims of chilled glasses into unbeaten egg whites, then into confectioner's sugar.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

Milam County 4-H'ers met with 1800 4-H'ers from throughout the state June 2-3, at College Station to compete for State honors at the annual State 4-H Roundup. The Campus of Texas A&M University was the scene for the State meeting and officials of the Extension Service called this one the best ever held.

Milam County 4-H sent 9 young men to the contest this year. Agents Danny Phillips and J. D. Moore accompanied the 4-H'ers to A&M. The 4-H'ers participated in the general assemblies and recreational activities Wednesday. Senator Tom Moore, Lt. Governor Ben Barnes, Director John Hutchison and other dignitaries spoke at the assembly in G. Rollie White Coliseum. Recreation followed the assembly.

Thursday was the big day for the 4-H as the contests got started as early as 6:30. The Poultry Judging Team competed against 10 teams in the contest and placed 6th overall. The team was a young 1st year team and consisted of team members: Robert Riola, Ricky Richter, David Ehler and Jerry Mueck.

The Dairy Team competed against 19 teams and 73 individuals in the large Judging contest. The boys judged 8 classes of dairy animals, 4 classes of Holsteins and 4 of Jerseys.

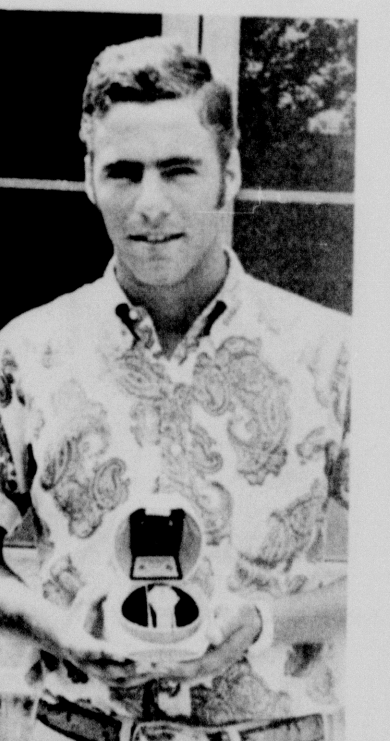

The team consisting of Clyde Jistel, Joseph Jistel, Daniel Richards and Donald Fleming placed 8th overall. The team won the high point honor in Jersey judging. The team was awarded Jersey Plaques and a model of the Ideal Jersey.

Clyde Jistel was also the high point individual of the entire contest. Clyde beat out the other 72 contestants to become the top 4-H dairy judge in the State. Clyde was honored at the banquet held Thursday night. Donald Fleming was 3rd high individual in Jerseys. The team was coached by the Asst. County Agent.

ed by the Asst. County Agent.

Martin Mueck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Mueck of Cameron won the top spot in the 4-H Tractor Operators Contest. Martin outscored the nearest competitor by almost 300 points to capture the honor.

Martin was awarded a gold watch and an expense paid trip to the Western National Contest in Phoenix, Arizona in November. The award was made possible by the Tractor Division of the Ford Motor Company. His father was his coach.

TRACTOR DRIVING CHAMP -- Here is Martin Mueck of Cameron, a Milam County 4-H'er who won top honors in the Tractor Operator Contest at the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University, June 2-3. He was coached by his father, Joe P. Mueck. The donor in the contest was the Tractor Division of Ford Motor Company.

Mrs. Frank Patzke and Jay of Freeport visited her sister and family the Johnny Yates Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. W. C. Cooper attended the high school graduating exercises at Bastrop Friday night.

Her grandson, Lloyd Cooper was a member of the class.

Mrs. Wesley Jareh and sons of Dallas visited her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Massengale, Friday. Deniece Jareh returned home with her mother after a weeks visit with her grandmother.

Danny Thweatt and Jim Reynolds of Houston spent the weekend with Danny's parents the Dock Thweatts. Mrs. Lanette Vrana came with them and visited her mother Mrs. Leota Thweatt.

Mrs. Buddy Bates of Houston visited her uncle, Mr. Roy Newton and Mrs. Newton Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Yager attended the wedding of Miss Catherine Yager and Mr. Broune in Bryan Saturday night. James Yager son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Yager spent Saturday in Galveston with a group from Cameron.

The Lonely Heart

B. F. Harbour of Rogers, retiring superintendent of the Rogers Public Schools, is included in the 1971-72 edition of "Who's Who in the South and Southwest," which has just come off the press. Harbour received the B.A. degree from North Texas State University and the M.A. degree from The University of Texas at Austin. He was a principal or superintendent in Texas public schools for 49 years.

The first U.S. postal rural route in Texas originated out of La Grange on August 1, 1899.

MRS. BAIRD RESIGNS

Mrs. Lila Mae Baird, long-time teacher in the Rogers Public Schools, presented her letter of resignation to the School Board June 3, joining the list of those retiring this year. She taught 17 years in the Rogers schools, the past few years at the fourth or fifth grade level. She taught in junior high school several years.

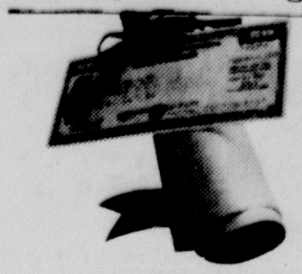

Mrs. Baird started out teaching at Moffatt, she taught at her home school Heidenheim, taught at Haybranch No. 24, at Austwell, at Bronte, at Jarrell, at Big Spring, at Kenedy, at Granger, and finally Rogers.

She still lives at Heidenheim.

COUPLE RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCrystal of Rogers have just returned from their former home in Houston where Mrs. McCrystal had minor surgery at the Bellaire General Hospital.

The McCrystals moved to Rogers in May, 1970 to retire, after a business career of his in Houston. Rogers was the hometown of Mrs. McCrystal; she was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Etter. Dr. Etter was a long-time physician in Rogers until his death some years ago.

GOOD GROOMING FOR MEN

Good grooming, say the editors of Esquire involves the whole man. More than just the clothes he wears or the way he cuts his hair, grooming reflects nothing less than the image a man has of himself and his ability to project that image to the world. Among the many up-to-date chapters is "Beards, Moustaches and Sideburns".

HOW TO COACH MANAGE AND PLAY LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL - The basic key to this manual is simplicity, but the author outlines a host of down-to-earth ways to get the most out of playing (and coaching) talent and to win more ball games as a result. He goes deeply into fundamentals of batting and fielding, and such fine points as signals and practice drill, and the perennial problem of how to get every boy into a game and yet still field a winning team.

THE SUPERMARKET TRAP

Ralph Nadar says "This book is for all housewives and other consumers who do not wish to be defrauded, duped, or harmed by the plethora of deception, contrived fraud and harmful chemicals masquerading as food." The author explains how supermarkets are laid out to stimulate additional buying, special promotions employing games and trading stamps, and the secrets of supermarket advertising.

SCOTLAND YARD - Peter Laurie, the author, was the first outsider to be given the remarkable opportunity of having a free run of Scotland Yard. He spent 8 continuous months on the beats, in squad cars, investigating theft and murder, and on routine jobs -- and has produced some fascinating and enlightening views of the attitudes and duties of a police force that is currently undergoing great change.

THE KENNEDY WOMEN - With the insight born of her own hardships, Pearl Buck presents a compassionate yet candid portrait of the women who were born Kennedys or married Kennedy men. She writes of Rose, beautiful, well-bred, and politically wise; of her first daughter, the lovely but retarded Rosemary; of Kathleen and Eunice, Jean and Joan; of the ebullient Ethel, the rebellious Patricia, the self-willed Jacqueline; and lastly, of young Caroline.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF WEDDINGS - Elizabeth Post covers every possible event, expense and procedure involved in getting married. She explains the right thing to do from the moment the engagement is decided upon until the reception is over -- including what to do if the engagement is broken or the wedding cancelled. Step-by-step planning of all kinds of weddings, from the simplest to the most formal is made easy by the book's many check lists, charts, and examples.

SOC PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Green, their son Marine Pvt. Raymond Craddock Green and daughter Mary Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swanzy spent a few days on a scenic drive to Carlsbad Caverns, through the mountains, a tour of McDonald Observatory and Big Ben National Park. They also took a bus ride from Del Rio into Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, visited the Judge Roy Bean Center in Langtry, Alamo City at Brackettville and the L. B. J. Ranch.

Pvt. Green left Tuesday afternoon (June 8) for San Antonio and San Diego, California to begin Marine boot training.

Luncheon Honors Graduates

Mrs. James Camphoned Yoe High School graduates Marion Thomas, Margaret Perkins and Gay Chancey at a luncheon held recently at Stagecoach Inn, Salado.

Luncheon tables were decorated with spring bouquets which were presented to the honorees. Guests included mothers of the honorees and other classmates.

Try Barbecued Fish For Summer Treat

Summer is here, and with summer comes the time for those backyard and picnic cookouts. In Texas a real favorite for cookouts is barbecue -- but barbecued what? Have you ever considered fish fillets?

Small, whole, pan-dressed fish, fillets or steaks from larger fish and shell-fish are all well-suited to outdoor cookery. For Success, however, it is necessary to remember two basic features of fish.

Fish cooks quickly, and it won't take as long to cook as other meats. When it becomes overcooked fish is dry and falls apart. It is low in fat which is great for weight watchers, but a bit of precaution is necessary to protect the flavor and texture of the flesh.

Basting with a barbecue sauce which contains some fat or oil will give a marvelous flavor to the fish while keeping the flesh moist and protected from the direct heat.

For that good smoky flavor soak wood chips from oak, hickory or maple for at least an hour in water and put them on the charcoal. As the chips flame up add more wet chips.

The following recipe is suitable for any type of fish fillet. Other free recipes can be obtained by writing to: Outdoor Fish Recipes, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Austin, Texas 78701.

BARBECUED FISH FILLETS

2 pounds fillets
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 tbsp. chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, finely chopped

Miss Marek Is Shower Honoree

Miss Janet Marek, bride-elect of Mr. Jimmy R. Barnes was honored Saturday with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Jane Callaway.

Special guests were Mrs. Monroe Marek and Mrs. J. B. Barnes, mothers of the couple.

The refreshment table, covered with a white linen and lace cloth, was centered with a satin heart and lilies-of-the-valley. The honoree's chosen colors of apricot and ivory were carried out in carnation and candle arrangements on the gift table and registration table.

Miss Barbara Sutherland and Miss Andrea Bigham served punch and cake squares to the guests.

The couple will be married Saturday, June 19, at Saint Monica Catholic Church.

Dinner Fetes Yoe Senior

Miss Ima McCoy of Taylor honored Yoe High School graduate Raymond Craddock Green with a dinner at her home Saturday evening, May 29.

Raymond's place at the table was marked with his framed graduation announcement.

Other Cameron guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Green and Mary Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swanzy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Albert Schattle, 1006 E. 9th St., a boy, Kevin Eugene, 9 pounds, born June 1 at Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

To Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hubnik of Rt. 1 Cameron a boy, Johnny Joe, 8 pounds 13 ounces, born June 7 at 7:15 p.m. at St. Edward Hospital.

COLOR-SCHEMING COTTONS—Coordinated cotton prints in shades of rich chocolate, licorice, and white set the theme for this distinguished setting. Cotton in a tiny black and brown leaf pattern covers the lower part of the dark wall. The same print with an overlay of white blossoms re-appears on the sofa and in tie-back curtains. Completing the decorative window treatment is a white shade banded in black and brown textured braid. The only color accent: sofa pillows in bitter green.

Modern Fashion Looks Adapt Folk Costume

By Christine Laws County Home Demonstration Agent

Afro, Gaucho, Peasant, Gypsy all ethnic looks in today's fashion scene. Did you ever wonder where these styles came from? They didn't just happen, you know. They were inspired by traditional modes of dress that remained unchanged for generations.

Centuries ago, "common" people had a tendency to create a national look in their costume. People from the same country dressed basically the same way. Individual design resulted from living in isolated villages, far from traveled roads. The costumes were not entirely uniform in color and style, for the maker would add his or her own creativity to the clothes. However, there was enough similarity in the costume of each area to identify the home and social status of the wearer.

In those days, a fashion lasted a century or more. It was not until 1800 that "peasant" dress became "folk dress" as it was reserved more and more for festive occasions. Although regional dress is still worn in many lands, modern manufacturing methods are pushing it aside. Machine made clothing is more durable and practical than hand-made garbs.

Ironically, while folk dress is rapidly being discarded, people are becoming more and more interested in the preservation of its wearing. Perhaps our current sentiment for old or artistic things will prevent folk costumes from disappearing altogether. So when you don your poncho or peasant's dress, remember... it's a country heritage, not a designer's whim.

Folk costume in Central Europe and the Balkan States is synonymous with peasant dress.

Until recently this peasant dress remained unchanged for generations. Peasant costume always differed from the dress of the wealthy because the peasant's work required strong durable clothes.

In many countries peasants were prohibited from wearing fine fabric and bright colors. However, the peasants wanted festive clothing for Sundays and holidays, so they began to decorate their homemade clothes with colorful hand embroidery and beautiful handmade lace. A simple white linen shirt, richly embroidered and worn with dark cloth breeches or full gathered skirt became the costume for many occasions.

FOLK ART INTEREST

Folk costume and folk art are enjoying renewed interest in both the fashion and art world. Bored with factory made items, people are beginning to appreciate the beautiful hand work of peasant crafts. Embroidered blouses, appliqued vests, fur lined sheep skin coats, suede pants and colorful dresses with gathered skirts are some of the ideas designers formed from the costumes of Central Europe and the Balkan States.

Spain has been more successful than most countries in preserving its native costumes. The austerity and sobriety of 16th Century Spanish dress, that influenced the fashions of most of Europe at that time, can still be seen in nearly all varieties of men's dress throughout the peninsula.

There are many elements of Spanish costume seen in current fashions. The bullfighter's cape gives a swashbuckling effect to any outfit. The fringed shawl is a perfect fashion accessory for the new soft dresses. The short jacket and pants of the torero along with its decorative styling have inspired many pants outfits and suits.

Africa, the second largest continent in the eastern hemisphere, forms the south western extension of Asia. Extreme climate and poor soil have caused the population to be unevenly distributed. In most parts of Africa, spinning and weaving are ancient arts. Each task is assigned according to sex. Spinning is considered women's work, while weaving is a male activity.

The textiles are decorated in many different ways. Designs may be woven into the cloth, embroidered, painted or printed. Cotton and hemp are the primary materials used; however, a variety of materials such as feathers and bark may also be used.

Fashion designers are quick to copy the long flowing lines and easy fit of the African costume. The hooded burnoose is ideal for beach and lounge wear. The brightly printed wrap skirt is a hit when teamed with a knit jumpsuit. Many long flowing dresses and sleeves cut-in-one with the bodice find their origin in the aba.

INSPIRATION FROM FAR EAST

In the Far East, some of the oldest civilizations in the world are located. The civilization of India can be traced back 3,000 years. Western contact began in the 14th century. In China, written history begins with the Chou Dynasty founded in 1122 B. C. However, the Chinese people assume their civilization dates back to 3,000 B. C.

Designers have found much inspiration in Far Eastern dress. The beautiful embroidered fabrics and sumptuous textiles have been used in various evening and hostess outfits. High collars, slit dresses, hostess pajamas, frog closures are just a few of the designs elements copied from Far Eastern dress. Hand woven and hand dyed fabrics from India are also popular items with fashion leaders and hippies alike.

South American is a mixture of Indian and Spanish cultures. The wealthy people follow chiefly the styles of Spain; the cholos and Indians cling to their distinctive native dress. South America has given designers much inspiration in her dashing, romantic costume of the pampas cowboy and Indian. Ponchos, "gaucho" pants, kerchief skirts and leather skirts and vests are just a few of the exciting new fashions taken from South American folk dress. Hand woven and primitive-looking fabrics made by the Indians are featured in many belts, bags and other fashion accessories. The whole feeling and flavor of this area has been interpreted for today's fashions.

Mexico has influenced fashion in many ways. Much of the hand woven fabrics and Indian motifs can be seen in the ethnic-look styles currently popular. Ponchos and sarapes are becoming standard items in sportswear departments. Teenagers have discovered the comfort and beauty of the embroidered huipile or peasant blouse. Hand woven belts and bags from Mexico are perfect fashion accessories for the mid look.

When fashion went "ethnic", the clothes of the cowboy and the American Indian were the first to inspire designers. Denim pants and jackets, fringed skirts and vests, boots and other leather items are popular sportswear. With the growing popularity of the mid-length dress, ruffled and flounced calico skirts and tops were introduced into the fashion scene. Clothes of the puritan have inspired designers for many years.

Obituaries

M. Weige

M. J. (Max) Weige, 93, died Sunday in a local nursing home after a short illness.

He was born in Austin County and was a farmer in the Ben Arnold community.

Funeral was at 3 p.m. Monday at the Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home, the Rev. Ernest L. Helsley officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are a son, Alvin Weige of Ben Arnold; two brothers, Hugo Weige of Industry and Willie Weige of Bellville; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Heitman of Bellville and Mrs. Ella Seayer of Seabrook.

Pallbearers were Archie Prokisch, Edwin Adams, Iven Vogelsang, Herman Dornier Jr., Phil Krause, and Ed Manning.

Mrs. Bybee

Mrs. Mamye Posey Bybee, a lifelong resident of Cameron, died early Monday at her home of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Green Funeral Home, the Rev. James Laferty officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are two brothers, Jake Posey of Wimberley and Clarence Posey of Cameron; and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Adrian of Temple.

Pallbearers were Lester Williams, R. J. Woodum, Littleton Barrett, Nathan Lewis, Bob Bailey, Wayne Goolsby, and Erle Adrian Jr.

Gospel Tabernacle

Sets Annual Services

The Cameron Gospel Tabernacle will hold its annual three-day fellowship services June 15, 16, and 17.

Services will be held at 10 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and at 7:45 p.m. A free noon meal will be served.

Sleeping accommodations will be available and everyone is invited to come and bring their friends.

Mrs. Cole

Mrs. E. C. Cole of 1203 Larkwood, Austin, died in an Austin hospital Thursday. She had been a resident of Austin for the past 16 years and was a former resident of Cameron.

Mrs. Cole was a member of the Cameron Chapter #553 Order of the Eastern Star, the Ashbury United Methodist Church and the Music Teachers Guild.

Survivors include her husband, E. C. Cole of Austin; a daughter, Mrs. Bill Windrum of Austin; two granddaughters; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Underwood of Midland and Mrs. C. J. Shultz of Dickinson.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Weed-Corley Funeral Home with Rev. Roy H. May Sr. and Rev. Murray O. Johnson officiating. Burial was in the Capital Memorial Gardens.

Pallbearers were S. P. Jones, A. Ray Jones, Leon Hughes, Elward Ruffin, John Sandburg and Jerry Fuller.

SMOOTH SAILING

That is exactly what all of us dream of. But this is God's world and we certainly must learn the laws of the winds of God if our journey is to be smooth. We must chart our course with caution.

We must know how to man the sails. We must read carefully the "guide book for mariners," called The Sermon on the Mount. One must know how to tack and, most important of all, ask the "Great Pilot" what course He recommends.

Let your church attendance and support record, the contribution you make to the cause of good, and your love for the brethren serve as your compass. The smooth sailing of your ship will be determined by the judgment you use in your preparation. You can't make it alone, Mister. Better take God with you.

Buckholts Cleanup Termed Successful

The Buckholts clean-up day held last Saturday was very successful as numerous loads of trash were picked up and carried to the dump grounds. Buckholts Lion's Club members, Boy Scouts, and volunteers participated. A special thanks go to Adolph Gresak, Steve Skrhak, Leslie Sakewitz, Raymond Wall, and Clarence McNeill for their help in collecting trash. The Buckholts Lions' Club will have its regular meeting Thursday at 8:30 p.m. Special guest will be State Rep. Dan Kubiak.

Pinto 2-Door Sedan

Maverick 2-Door Sedan

FORD

$1919*
Pinto 2 door
$66 less than VW 113

$2175*
Maverick 2 door
$176 less than Nova 2 door

The little carefree car. Pinto is sized small, like the economy import, but it's bigger on value. And price is only the beginning. Pinto calls for only half as many oil changes as VW. One-sixth the chassis lube. So easy to service that you can do most routine maintenance yourself. And Pinto is bigger on performance. It has a 75-hp engine that has averaged over 25 mpg in simulated city/suburban driving. Sports-car type rack-and-pinion steering. Wider stance and lower silhouette.

The Simple Machine. Maverick's price makes it simpler to own than Nova. But that's not the only reason we call it the Simple Machine. Maverick's simple to drive and park because of its shorter wheelbase and smaller turning circle. Simple to service because it's been designed that way. Maverick offers a 4-door sedan for a low price of $2235* ($145 less than Nova 4 door). Or choose the sporty Grabber model. A choice of an economical V-8 and three thrifty Sixes.

*Ford's suggested retail price for Pinto and Maverick. However, the models shown are equipped with accent group (Pinto $60; Maverick $52) and white sidewall tires ($29). Destination charges, dealer preparation charges (if any), state and local taxes are extra.

Comparison based on manufacturers' suggested retail prices for closest comparable body styles of lowest priced models, comparably equipped.

Sr. Citizens Fair Set At Rockdale

By Christine Laws

The Milam County Governor's Committee on Aging is sponsoring a Senior Citizens Fair to be held June 18 from 2 - 5 p.m. in Rockdale.

The site of the fair will be the old Rockdale Floor Covering business next to the Rockdale Reporter. Anyone 50 years of age or older is free to enter the fair.

Come one, come all and bring your handwork, family heirlooms, and antiques, canned products, collections handcraft or any other item for exhibit.

The building will be open at 1 p.m. on the 18th. All exhibits should be in place by 2 p.m. Please put name, address and any information regarding history of item on a sheet of paper attach it to the item.

Anyone is free to sell any of the items they exhibit if they wish, but this will be on an individual basis. The committee will not be responsible for any items.

Come and bring your items to exhibit and encourage others to come and look.

For any further information contact Mrs. Clyde Holliman in Rockdale or the County Home Demonstration Agent, Christine Laws in Cameron.

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Master Chief Hospital Corpsman (E9) Albert G. Kotrola, Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, was promoted to his present grade in ceremonies held at the Institute on March 1, by Captain Bruce H. Smith, the Director of AFIP. Kotrola is the son of Mrs. Joe A. Kotrola of Cameron and was a 1953 Yoe High graduate.

Tippy Toe Squirrel Sighted In Park

What's furry, has a red head, is blind and tiptoes?
Answer: a squirrel.

Superintendent Jerry McCrless of San Jacinto State Park was startled to see a squirrel crossing a park road on tiptoes and with a red object covering its head.

He caught the little fellow and removed the red paste can which was wedged firmly on its head.

The squirrel was glad to be rid of the can, and appeared to be healthy.

With his vision obscured by the can, the squirrel's careful and deliberate gait made him appear to be tiptoeing, McCrless said.

COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Shirley Elaine Mercer of Cameron has received a Certificate of Vocational Competency. This is the most comprehensive award available through the Gregg Tests and Awards Program.

To be eligible, students must have earned awards in OGA shorthand writing, senior typing production, 50-word or more typing speed, 5-minute 100-word shorthand speed, and in senior transcription.

Miss Mercer is a sophomore at Blinn College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Mercer of Cameron.

Fresh Veggies Top Food Plentiful

The "new crop" season is fast approaching with a whole new range of fresh fruits and vegetables, announces Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Supplies of fresh corn are steadily increasing and the quality is exceptionally good. Squash, new potatoes, yellow onions, cucumbers, radishes, green onions, broccoli, eggplant, carrots, collards, mustard and turnip greens are all deserving selections.

Cantaloupe is on special in the fruit section of many stores. Strawberry prices are about the same as last week, and watermelon supplies are fairly liberal with reasonable prices.

Honeydew melons, oranges, lemons, pineapples and bananas are also good fruit choices price-wise.

In the meat department, pork prices have started to increase, but many economical features are still available. By careful checking, good buys can be found on butt roasts and steaks, whole loin, loin roasts and rib chops. Bacon, smoked hams and weiners are also being featured.

Beef prices are much the same as a week ago. Chuck steaks and roasts, round steaks, ground beef and hot dogs are the more economical choices.

Fryer chickens are a bargain in most stores. And large size eggs offer the most economy and quality for your egg money. Remember deviled eggs go well with fried chicken for picnics and outings, Mrs. Clyatt adds.

Sharp-Tracy-Frship

By Mrs. Leroy Gullote

Our area was hit by a rain storm that dumped two to two and three tenths of rain in thirty minutes. Friendship had two inches of rain, and the wind touched down at cups and tore a big oak tree up. Sharp was hit by severe winds, and the Fowler place had a building unroofed, three huge trees demolished. Tracy had some hail and lots of wind, but little damage.

The Karl Hanke place suffered extensive damage from winds that ripped off tin on a barn and blew part of a barn away. Tin from the building was blown into a new wire fence, cutting the wire in two. Winds drove rain in the Hanke home, three inches deep, and the hail was so big, it was described as sheets of ice. Lightning also killed a cow at Hanks. Hargroves also had a huge oak tree torn up.

Mrs. Rome Shelton has returned home after a few days in St. Edward Hospital. Mrs. Shelton suffered a broken arm.

Mrs. Alice Rhodes also has a broken arm, received while visiting her daughter and family, Mrs. McConnell and children, in Temple.

Elvin and Georgia Walker of Port Arthur, Mrs. Emory Walker and son, Gaydon, spent a weekend in their country home in Friendship. Elvin also visited in the W. H. Walker home.

Mr. Clifford Walker and son, Clifford Walker, Jr., attended funeral services for Mrs. Server, at Rule, Texas. Mrs. Server was Mr. Walker, Sr.'s sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liles visited Mrs. Rome Shelton Saturday.

Guests of Mrs. Minnie Lee Collier were Jim Collier, Miss Monica Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Fowler and Mrs. Francis Cunningham and her three sons. Patrick McCormick and his fiancée, Miss Kathy Jacobs attended a kitchen shower, given for them in Texas City.

Mr. Alvin Walker of Dripping Springs visited Mr. and Mrs. Ure Satterwhite.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hanke and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hanke of Cooperas Cove were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hanke. The Lester Hanks, and children also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Preston Schwartz.

Norris Harbuz flew to Washington D.C. Sunday morning to visit his sister, Miss Cynthia Harbuz.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Triggs of Lubbock spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. George Triggs.

Miss Eileen Yates and Miss Linda Coffman of Dallas spent several days with Linda's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffman.

Mrs. Lilly Jones, of Rosebud visited Miss Agnes Rinn Friday afternoon. Miss Rinn had Houston folks as guests for a few days, Charles Gallar and his mother, and Jim Enox.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Green, Doug, Linda and Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Albert Rinn of Austin spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Emory Brockenbush and daughter, Peggy. Mgs. Rinn stayed on for a longer visit.

Billy Roesler arrived home from bootcamp one day late to attend the graduation of his brother, Johnny. He was greeted by his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roesler, brothers, Johnny and David, his sisters and families, the Benny Reynolds' of Houston, the Eddie Phillips' and Stacy of Dallas, the Johnny Phillips' of Dallas, the Willis Williams' and daughter of Greenville, and friends glad to see him home. He will go to Viet Nam from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens of Kerrville spent the weekend in Tracy with Mr. Garlon Lawrence, and their granddaughters, Becky and Keely. Becky and Keely went home with them for a week.

Gause News

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

A number from here rode in the trail ride to Rockdale last Friday and then attended the different activities during the festival days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pike recently returned home from Henderson, Tennessee where they attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Nona Lindsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glenn Alexander and Joel of Houston spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alexander and Margie Nan.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Brown Ely, Mrs. Lela Burney and Mrs. Terry Collier attended the wedding of Miss Wanda Wooten to Mr. Bill Crowder at the First Baptist Church in Hearne.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Brown Ely took their son Rock to Georgetown where he enrolled for summer courses at Southwestern University.

Mr. and Mrs. Koye Cass spent the weekend in Danbury with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Payne.

Vacation Bible School will be held next week at the Baptist Church. Primary through Junior Classes will be held each morning, Monday - Friday beginning at 8:30 a.m. and lasting until 11:30 a.m.

The young people will meet each evening during that week at the church beginning at 7:30 p.m. All children and young people of the community are invited to these services.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Mathis, Frank and Kenny of Birmingham, Ala. spent several days here visiting with Mrs. Lillie Harris and in Hearne with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mathis and other relatives. They came at this time to attend the Mathis reunion Sunday.

Mrs. Sue Fuller is home after a couple weeks visit in Sulphur Springs with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melton.

Mrs. Dorothy Newsome is home after spending several days in a Cameron hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Todd and Jennifer have recently moved to Cameron where they have bought a home.

Mr. Alfred Coats went to Tyler Saturday morning where he and his sister, Mrs. Charlie Money of Orange joined their brother and family of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Coats and they went to Morton to visit with their father, Mr. Olan Coats and to Lubbock where their mother was a patient in the hospital.

Mrs. Cecil Butler and granddaughter Staci Hux of Cameron spent last Tuesday in Waco where they visited with Mrs. Lee Roy Berhinger.

Mrs. Lizzie Rains of Houston spent a week vacation here with relatives.

Mrs. Gertrude Lange of Calvert spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fuller.

Mrs. Cecil Butler attended a bridal shower for Miss Jackie Morris in Cameron Saturday afternoon.

MRS. T. D. CORLEY will sing "America the Beautiful" as the finale to Saturday night's Folk Fete program at Yoe Field.

In Minor League

White Sox, Giants Score

The Giants moved up in Minor League standings with a 25-4 win over the Lions Friday night.

The Giants put 11 runs on the scoreboard their first time at bat, 2 in the second inning, 9 in the third and 3 in the fourth.

Lions batters scored 1 in the first, 2 in the third and 1 in the fourth inning.

Pitcher for the Giants was Robert Murphy, catcher Lloyd Hollister. Losing pitcher was Glenn Glaser, catcher John Bra-shear.

Fouche Canady, starting pitcher for the Hustlers, hit a triple in the first inning that brought in one run and then scored on an error. A third run in the first inning ended scoring for the Hustlers.

The White Sox put five runs on the scoreboard in their 1st inning and 7 in the 3rd with Melvin Hundie hitting a triple and a home run by James Mondrik that brought in three runners.

The White Sox added four more runs in the 4th inning and in the top of the 5th retired the Hustlers with three strike-outs pitched by Steve Vrazel.

James Mondrik and Vrazel pitched for the White Sox. Fouche Canady, Terry Tindall and Mark Scott were pitchers for the Hustlers.

WHITE SOX-HUSTLERS

The Minor League White Sox won their third straight game Monday night scoring 16 runs to the Hustlers 3.

SPORTS

Cards, Indians Tie For Lead

CARDINALS-COLTS

The unbeaten Cardinals won their third straight game against no losses over the Colts Friday night 13-6.

Winning pitcher was Donnie Joe Marek assisted by the hitting of Mike Barr and home runs by James Thompson and Otis Majors.

Losing pitcher was Ronnie Orsag. Leading hitter for the Colts was Tim Matthews.

YANKEES-BRAVES

In Saturday afternoon action the Yankees downed the winless Braves 17-3.

Winning pitcher Nathan Kimbrel had assistance of three home runs, two by Danny Coker and one by Bobby Burton.

Mark Woods is credited with the loss with Roy Tena and Bill Corbin leading the Braves in hitting.

The Yankees now are 2-1 on the season while the Braves are 0-3.

INDIANS-BEARS

Monday night's little league action saw Dale Mueck pitch the Indians to their third straight no-hit game in downing the Bears 16-0.

Indian hitters were led by Mueck and Carl Bradley.

The Indians are now tied with the Cardinals for the lead in the little league, both 3-0 and the Bears are winless with a 0-4 record.

Yoemen Unbeaten In Cen-Tex

The Cameron Yoemen, one of two Cameron teams entered in the Cen-Tex Baseball League is the only remaining unbeaten team of the National League division.

The Belton Jaycees fell last Sunday to the Yoemen by the score of 22-5. Balanced pitching with a good fielding and hitting have helped bring Cameron's season record to 4-0.

Another Cameron team, the Merchants has yet to win a ball game. Although 0-4 on the season their record is a bit deceiving. Two of their losses have been one run decisions while the latest came at the hands of Temple by the score of 5-2.

OPERATION SOAR, a nationwide campaign by the Boy Scouts of America against litter was carried on in Cameron last Saturday by members of Troop 752. Pictured

PARIS POPULATION

The population of Paris has fallen below 2.5 million for the first time since 1891, according to official figures published there.

ROYAL GRAVE

Budapest, Hungary, Reuter -- Another royal grave has been found at Szekesfevar, the medieval burial place of Hungary's kings about 40 miles southwest of here. The entire burial site was plundered by the Turks in 1543.

BOOKS for your CHILDREN

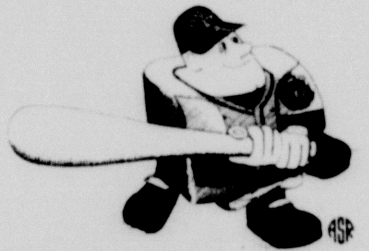

The spring madness is upon us again. The madness that stirs in February, becomes "official," in April, and climaxes by October as a "world" contest. It's a madness with violence and lawlessness only in the words of its own vocabulary. Runners "steal" bases and fielders "rob" batters. Batters "slam" or "blast" or "sock" the ball, but too often they get "thrown out." Then there is the man in blue who may really throw out a player, but that is about as close to real violence as the old ballgame gets.

Men who manage the various baseball leagues for youngsters say the game promotes teamwork and develops physical fitness. An important asset often overlooked is that baseball entices youngsters to read. If librarians were ever to compile a list of the ten most popular biographies in the nation, eight or nine would probably be biographies of major league ballplayers.

So, if your boy is more concerned with "tearing the cover off the ball" than going beyond the cover of a good book, then play the game his way. Get your librarian to suggest books about major league players, including your son's favorite if possible. Don't coax or bully. Just place the books where he can't go on avoiding them. There are plenty such books to choose from, including:

Juan Marichal: Mister Strike by Joan Devaney (Ages 10-16). One of the winningest pitchers still active in major league baseball, Marichal is the anchor man of the San Francisco Giants mound corps. Although he has been plagued with various injuries over more than ten seasons, and he came close to destroying two careers -- John Roseboro's and his own

--when he attacked Roseboro with a bat, Juan has invariably been able to come up with enough winning games to help make the Giants serious pennant contenders.

Baseball-istics, The Basic Physics of Baseball by Robert Froman (Ages 10-16). This book is baseball, it's fun, and it's physics. The author creates a ballgame, and each half-inning clearly makes a point clear on some phase of the laws of physics--momentum, acceleration, balance, wobbles, spins, and collision. The game itself is a World Series contest of the year 2000. And if nowadays we can call it a "world" series when it is confined to a few of the 48 continental states, why can't he call it the same when the opponents are one team of interplanetary ringers and the other the earth champions who are, what else?, the Mets!

Baseball's Greatest Catchers by Al Hirschberg (Ages 10-16). Here are action sketches of twenty major league catchers whose careers were long and successful. Each biographical sketch is an easily read journalistic coverage of the catcher's personality and baseball record.

The Greatest Dodgers of Them All by Steve Gielman (Ages 10-16). Word portraits of fourteen of the alltime great Dodgers from Brooklyn to San Francisco. Includes recent players that current baseball fans still recognize, such as Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills.

Airport Opponents Go Underground

NARITA, Japan have gone underground in a public cemetery on the site to continue their resistance.

Airport officials say a group has begun digging an underground fortress in the graveyard as yet another defense system in their bid to prevent completion of the airport.

Local farmers opposed to losing their land for the triple-runway project about 40 miles east of Tokyo say they will fight to the end along with souls of their ancestors.

The new underground fortification is just one more move in the bitter opposition to the Narita airport plan. More than a thousand demonstrators and police were injured in continuous clashes on the site, and an equal number of demonstrators arrested, before the airport construction authority called a truce in March.

Groups of farmers have continued occupation of the disputed area. They take shifts in cramped tunnels and officials say the resistance groups have been burrowing underground in many parts of the site.

The airport corporation has made a court application for forcible requisition of the cemetery situated between the planned sites of the control tower and passenger terminal. But they have met strong opposition from five of the 73 families with ancestors buried there.

The other 68 families have agreed to remove their remains to a new cemetery to be built near the airport.

As a result of bitter fighting between riot police and demonstrators on the site before the truce was declared, officials at one time estimated the airport could not be in use until April 1972 -- a year behind the original schedule.

But transport minister Tomisaburo Hashimoto has now told newsmen he doubts even that deadline can be met.

As one airport spokesman said: "there are tunnels everywhere. Further delays seem inevitable."

Hashimoto said land acquisition and problems in constructing an oil pipeline are chiefly responsible for the delay.

Forcible requisition would have to be attempted again if the acquisition of land for the airport and pipeline continued to meet local opposition, he warned.

And that could mean a repeat of battles between the farmers with their student sympathizers, and police.
